WILL CARRY FIGHT TO BITTER END

Barnes and Roosevelt Determined to Listen to No Compromise

BOTH PARTIES FIRM.

Former President Will Bare All Possible Alleged Iniquities, Political, of Barnes

Syracuse, N. Y. April 20—With the beginning today of testimony in William Barnes, Jr., $50,000 libel suit against Theodore Roosevelt, both sides declares that the fight will be carried to the bitter end and that no attempt will be made to end the case on technicalities.

It was learned today that both Barnes and Roosevelt are being importuned to compromise their fight and avoid revelations which may upset and blight their political careers.

Prominent Republicans are asking Barnes and Republicans and Progressives suggesting to Roosevelt that a compromise should be reached, if possible, for the good of both parties.

Such suggestions were firmly rejected today by both leaders. They are set upon a fight to a finish.

Reports that statements in court late yesterday of Roosevelt's chief counsel, John M. Bowers, that Roosevelt's charges against Barnes were not personal and were not meant to impute personal corruption, might lead to an amicable settlement of the suit, were vigorously denied today.

Roosevelt's side even went farther They declared that Bowers' disclaimer was not to be considered a "weakening" by the Roosevelt side or even as an overture for a compromise.

Roosevelt was determined today upon his original plan of attempting proof of his charges and baring all possible alleged iniquities, political, of Barnes.

EXTRA HOLIDAY AT ST. MARY'S

Archbishop Christie, of Portland Oregon, Visits Institution.

The pupils of St. Mary's Academy are enjoying the rare treat of an extra holiday today, at the request of Archbishop Christie, of Portland, Oregon, who honored the school by a visit yesterday afternoon. Accompanying the Archbishop were his secretary, Dr. Thompson, also of Oregon, the very Reverend Andrew Morrisey, of Notre Dame University, and Dr. J. Burns, C.S.C., President of Holy Cross College Catholic University, Washington, D.C. In his own charming manner Dr. Morrissey introduced the Archbishop to the assembled pupils and teachers. None but Dr. Morrissey could have so quickly tuoched the key note of response in his charmed listeners. His address, though brief, was frequently interrupted by hearty cheers of approval. The Archbishop, stately and dignified, was cheered as he rose to express his pleasure at finding himself surrounded by children of historic Virginia. He spoke of the great West, hoping that some, at least, of his audience would enjoy in the near future, the pleasure of a trip to the Pacific coast, his ideal land. At the close he invoked the benediction of heaven on all present.

The British trawler Vanilla was torpedoed and sunk in the North Sea by a German submarine on Sunday. The trawler Fermo tried to save the Vanilla's crew, but was driven off by the German boat with torpedoes.

ITALY AND THE ALLIES

All Signs Point to War Between Francis Joseph and Victor Emanuel.

Paris, April 20—Baron von Macchio, Austrian Ambassador to Italy, has sent his family and the archives of the embassy to Vienna from Rome, according to a dispatch from the Italian capital.

This news and other developments indicate tha Italy is on the brink of war. While reports of a clash between Italian and Austrian troops at the frontier are unconfirmed, it is understood that war will come from just such an incident.

The Italian cabinet ministers are holding daily conferences. Pope Benedict XV and Emperor Francis Joseph are exchanging letters. Prince von Buelow's negotiations for Austrian concessions to Italy are reported to have been broken off.

The dispatch announcing the departure of the Austrian Ambassador's family from Rome, states that Baron von Macchio is remaining with only one servant and the embassy's chancellor.

The Petit Parisian quotes a prominent statesman of Roumania as saying:

"Italy will fight with the allies. So will Roumania. We shall enter the war simutaneously with Italy. We are negotiating the final details of our agreement with Italy and awaiting her final military preparations. I expect action to begin early in May."

London, April 20—Whether the negotiations between Rome and Vienna concerning Italy's demands for territorial concessions have been broken off remains for the moment an official secret, but it appears to be universally agreed that the tension is approaching the breaking point.

It is suggested here that the Italian foreign office is awaiting an ultimatum from Vienna on the subject of Italy's military preparations along the frontier as a pretext to sever the remaining ties barring an outbreak of hostilities.

The alertness with which every move, diplomatically or otherwise made by Italy is now followed in London indicates the high importance attached here to efforts to bring Italy to the fighting line.

One of the main reasons advanced for this desire to include Italy in the partnership of the allies is that in no other way is it possible to close so effectually the door through which supplies are still reaching the Teutonic combattants in considerable amount.

A case in point is the confiscation by the Swiss authorities announced in Geneva today of a carload of machine guns of American manufacture which was on the way to Germany from Genoa. Shipments of iron, copper sulphate, etc., have been reaching Germany with a fair degree of regularity through Italy. It is asserted today that a sudden embargo has been placed at Como on a trainload of these supplies, and that Italy and Roumania have taken joint action in refusing to allow foodstuff for the civilian population of Austria-Hungary to traverse their territories.

The total Prussian casualties in the war are now 1,196,969, according to lists of losses published in Berlin yesterday. The sixth list contained 32,524 names.

After examining only three witnesses and being in session less than an hour the grandjury at Annapolis yesterday afternoon returned presentments against the six promoters of the Meyers Station poolroom, which was raided by Baltimore police on the 16th of last January. The men presented were William Austin, alias Dan Rice; William Brooks, Fred Curtis, Sol Fink, Henry Murray, Frank Ward. The six men immediately were placed on trial, pleaded guilty, and were given six months apiece.

FOREST FIRES IN OLD DOMINION

Valuable Timber Land Burned Over for Miles in Some Places.

BARELY SAVE CHURCH

Prevailing Dry Weather Causing Conflagrations in Many Sections Throughout State.

Richmond, April 20—Sweeping in a long line through rich timber lands one of the most disastrous forest fires in the history of the county has already devastated an area of about fifteen miles in Chesterfield County principally in the vicinity of Midlothian, and is still raging. About 4,000 acres of wood have been destroyed, with a loss of approximately $20,000 Although the main fire was reported last night to be under control, several other conflagrations have started in other sections of the county, and it is feared that still greater damage will be caused.

The fire started about 10 o'clock on Sunday morning at the border of Chesterfield and Powhatan Counties. Owing to the extreme dryness of the country on which no rain has fallen for weeks, it spread with remarkable rapidity, fanned by a stiff breeze. It swept in an irregular line of about twenty miles down the county along the Southern Railway, touching along the Midlothian Turnpike.

The origin of the fire has not been exactly determined, but it is thought that it was started from some place where people were clearing away new ground. From this sparks may have been carried by the wind, and other fires started.

Several volunteer parties, numbering about fifty persons in each, have been engaged in fighting the conflagration since Sunday morning, and have done heroic work in keeping the blaze from dwelling houses. Men, women and children, aroused by the crackling flames almost at their doorsteps in some instances turned out, armed with brush, pitchforks and other crude implements in defense of their homes and property. The whole countryside was aroused, and has been in a state of excitement since the first news of the disaster.

The most spectacular piece of work was done around the Bethel Baptist Church, which for some time was in jeopardy. Flames were seen leaping out of the woods near the church just as the congregation was leaving after the morning service. At first it seemed as if the building was doomed, but through the valiant efforts of the congregation, which turned out en masse for the battle, it was finally saved. Several small buildings around it were destroyed, however, and all the near-by timber.

Although no dwellings caught fire, only a few outhouses being destroyed, many persons in the county lost valuable property.

SHOT DEAD BY INDIAN LOVER.

White Postmistress Had Rejected Brave Who Tries Suicide.

Shawano Wis., April 20.—Miss Mary Dickson, postmistress at Keshena, official agnecy of the Menominee Indian reservation, was shot and instantly killed late Sunday night by an Indian James Wapoose, a rejected suitor. Wapoose then fired two shots into his head. He was taken to the Government hospital, where it is said chances for his recovery are slight.

The shooting occurred while Miss Dickson was buggy riding with another young man. Wapoose lay in hiding at the side of the road, and wehn Miss Dickson and her escort came along demanded that the girl go with him. Upon Miss Dickson's refusal Wapoose fired. Miss Dickson's companion fled.

The auxiliary German cruiser Kronprinz Wilhelm was placed in drydock at Newport News yesterday. Official survey of her condition was begun at once. The vessel is guarded by forty soldiers from Fort Monroe.

HIGH SCHOOL BEATEN.

Army And Navy Prep School Wins Yesterday's Game.

The High Schol lost yesterday's game to the Army and Navy Prep School in Washington by the score of 10 to 7. The Prep team is one of the strongest, if not the strongest team among the schools in Washington, but the Alexandria boys led them through a hotly contested game outplaying them both on offense and defense, only to lose out in a driving finish in the eighth inning. Nalls was a puzzle for the future soldiers and sailors and was hardly in trouble until the fatal eighth. His team placed him in the lead by pounding out four runs in the fourth. In the second E. Barnett led off with a hit; A. Barnett beat out a bunt and both scored. The same pair led off in the fourth, when hits by Bitzer, Mitchell, Nalls, Wenzel, scored four runs. The features of the game were Earl Barnett's batting, he getting four out of five times up, and a one-handed scoop of Wenzel's which he tossed to first, while off his balance, getting the runner and retiring the side. The Preps hammered in six runs in the eighth, as they seemed to find their batting eyes and were helped along by errors.

The High School plays the Georgetown University Freshmen Friday here, and on Saturday plays two games in Rockville, one with the Academy and one with the High School.

PEKING AND TOKYO.

Celestrial Empire Rejects Those of Japan's Chief Demands.

London, April 20—Reuter's Peking correspondent is authority for the statement that the United States Government has sent a note to China which bears upon the negotiations now under way between Peking and Tokyo. It is said the United States pointed out that it had certain rights in China which were conferred by treaties, and that it did intend in any manner to recede from them. The Peking dispatch adds that the Chinese believe the American note will have a "valuable moral effect" on the Chino-Japanese negotiations.

Pekin, April 20—China has rejected three of the chief demands made by the Japanese. This rejection is tantamount to a flat defiance of the Nippon government, and it is admitted that the situation is serious. Japan is prepared to make war to enforce these demands, but China looks to the United States and to England to take a firm stand in their defense.

Dr. Hoike, Japanese Ambassador, received three messages from the Tokyo foreign office yesterday, but refused to state whether the general conferences would be resumed today as scheduled at the Pekin foreign office. It was stated that if the conference was resumed it would continue only upon assurances that Japan had altered her attitude.

An official of the Chinese foreign office cenferred with Dr. Paul S. Reinsch, the American Minister, yesterday It was said, unofficially, that China was attempting to learn whether the United States would take any action in casee Japan attempted to use coercion.

Washington, April 20—At the office of Counselor Lansing of the State Department, it was stated nothing was known there of any American note to China.

Lillian Cohen, 19, staggered fainting into a New York drug store crying, "I have been stabbed." She said a tall, dark man had been following her and when she had repulsed his approaches jabed her in the arm five times. The police are looking for the tall, dark man, whom they suspect of being a drug fiend. The girl was taken to Gouvernor Hospital.

Three more Dutch trawlers have been seized by German warships and taken to Hamburg, according to news received in Amsterdam from Ymuiden.

BRITISH "SPRING DRIVE" A REALITY

Vigorous Attempts to Force German Troops Out of Beigium.

FORCE THE FIGHTING.

Movement May Succeed in Threatening Teutons' Line of Communication—French Also Active.

London, April 20.—The British "spring drive" in France and Belgium is now a reality. From a point near the sea in Belgium to the vicinity of Lille the British troops are forcing the German intrenched line back.

The center of the attack is to the east of Ypres and the main strength of the British force is believed here to extend northward beyond Pilken.

It is accepted here that the present movement, referred to in the official report as "important," is the beginning of the attempt to reclaim Belgium from the Germans. There has been much criticism of the Britsh war office for the failure to concentrate its efforts on Belgian territory because of the large number of Belgian refugees now in England, and it is thought that the general staff has finally decided at least to test out the strengh of thee German lines.

Incidentally, should the movement succeed, the main German lines of communication will be threatened, which will be of great assistance to General Joffre in the movement begun by the French commander-in-chief.

While the British are forcing the fighting on the extreme northwest of the long battle line, the French are also very active at the other extremity, in Alsace, where the drive toward the Rhine in gaining impetus every day. The weather conditions have materially improved and the highways and fields are again in such shape that movements of artillery are possible.

The British losses are admittedly severe because of the necessity of attacking heavily intrenched positions. It is not expected there will be any prolonged lulls from now on, but that the fighting will increase in intensity as the fresh units, now being placed in position, are brought into action.

MEAT RIOTS IN PETROGRAD.

Butchers Who Refuse to Sell at Government Prices in Trouble.

Petrograd, April 20.—Petrograd butchers refused to sell meat yesterday, in protest against a recent government order warning all retailers that prices must not be raised above rates fixed by the government. Customers who went to the shops for their usual purchases found them empty. They received little encouragement from the butchers, who said there was no prospect that a supply of meat would be available.

This action led to disorders and in some shops excited customers broke into the meat celars, and on finding them well stocked insisted that they be served. Incipient riots, which resulted in the partial wrecking of several shops, were ended by the police, who made an investigation as a basis for court procedure against the butchers.

Shops in which no meat was found were closed by the police, and will not be permitted to reopen until special permission has been obtained. Butchers who concealed meat will be fined or imprisoned.

POSITION OF SPAIN.

Former Premier Says Country Should Announce its Position.

Madrid, April 20.—"Silence at present is a crime; for if we wait until the moment of victory to show our sympathy for the victor it is probable we shall be too late," was the assertion made by Count Alvaro de Romanones, forme Premier of Spain, in speaking Sunday to a large audience at Palma, capital of the Balearic Isles. He pointed out that Spain's foreign policy since the Cartagena agreement in 1907, has been more and more favorable to the Triple Entente.

"The present hours are so grave and important," said the former premier, "that it is necessary for Spain to make a solemn declaration. Without violating our neutrality we must say who among the belligerents we consider our friends."

Count Romanones' address was enthusiastically cheered by his hearers

The speaker said among other things, that the government was obliged to be silent on the subject, but that men not in power could declare that Tangiers was a national aspiration and that the future of Spain was in the Mediterranean, while the future of Portugal was in America.

The Cartagena agreement was a triple understanding reached between Great Britain, France and Spain, following a visit of the late King Edward of Cartagena, in 1907. The agreemtns between Spain and Great Britain and Spain and France were distinct, although following the same lines. Great Britain's chief interest in the agreement was in the removal of any cause for uneasiness in regard to the possibility of a land attack on Gibraltar, Spain for the first time recognizing her right to hold the peninsula. Spain, on the other hand, benefited by having a strong power guaranteeing her position in the Canary Islands and the Mediterranean, including the Balearic Islands.

No attempt was made by Germany to conceal its irritation at the conclusion of the agreement, for it was felt that its chief aim probably was the further isolation of that country.

The Rev. William Carrier, of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Millersport, Ohio, eight miles east of Huntington, W. Va., died in his pulpit Sunday night from heart failure. He had preached his sermon and pronounced the benediction, but as he uttered his final "amen" his head fell forward on his hands and an instant later he fell to the floor dead.

FRANK SAYS HE WILL NOT HANG

Condemned Man Still Proclaims Innocence of Crime of Murder

"WILL BE A FREE MAN"

Declares He Has Never Lost Faith, Always Being Assured of Ultimate Exoneration.

Atlanta, April 20—"I am confident I will never hang. Truth and justice will eventually prevail. So conscious of the right of my cause and innocent as I am I have never faltered in spirit. I still have mind and hopes on the future, and eventually I will be a free and exonerated man."

This was the statement of Leo M. Frank to a representative of the Times who visited him in his cell in the tower. Frank is perfecting his physical and mental self for the future, when he expects to be a liberated man, cleared of the stigma of murder.

"I have never once lost faith," he continued.

"True, it is no picnic, enduring confinement and denial of freedom, but I have borne up under it as philosophically as I was abie. I have always felt assured of eventual exoneration.

"It is a long road that has no turning. The road has gone as long as it possibly can. This is obliged to be a turning, and my innocence will be recognized."

Leo Frank heard the tidings of the court's action with the same mask-like expression of calm that has hidden his emotions at every stage of his two years' ordeal.

Alone in the formidable triple-barred cell, he was smoking a cigarette and he continued to smoke with even, deliberate puffs as the fatal message was told.

"Naturally, I am very much disappointed," he said, quietly and cooly.

Frank read the dispatch from Washington telling of the United States Supreme Court's adverse ruling on hi. case yesterday without blinking. When he had started to speak, however, Mrs. Frank came in, also apparently calm, she kissed him through the bars of the cell, and the newspapermen withdrew

The action of the Supreme Court does not mean that Frank will be hanged immediately. At the very earliest time, under the legal procedure, and with the utmost dispatch of every factor concerned, the date of execution cannot fall within two and a half months.

Would Have Fifth Ward Through Residents of Annexed Territory to Hold Meeting at West End School House Friday Night.

A mass meeting of the residents of the territory recently annexed to the city of Alexandria, will be held at the West End School House on Friday night at 8 o'clock. The object of the meeting, as stated in the call, it to consider important matters in connection with the improvements of the new territory and representation in the City Council of Alexandria. There is a strong effort being made by the new residents to have all of the territory included in a new ward to be known as the fifth ward which will be represented in council by four members of Common Council and two Aldermen. This action is opposed by a considerable number of the residents of old Alexandria, who claim that the wards should be evenly divided and that there are only 100 voters to be considered in the annexed territory, while there are an average of 450 in the present wards.

Dr. C. B. Gibson Delivers Interesting Lecture and Exhibits Fine Pictures.

While the allies' fleets are meeting with stubborn resistance in attempting to enter the Dardanelles, Doctor C. B. Gibson in the Elks' Auditorium last night safely conducted a large concourse of ladies and gentlemen of Alexandria through that narrow strait into the Sea of Marmora, up the Bosphorus and safely landed them at the Sublime Porte. They had more than a glimpse of the sheet of water through which Leander swam nightly in order to meet Hero as well as the place where the rude waves dashed his body at the feet of his lady love.

The lecture was delivered under the auspices of Alexandria-Washington Lodge of Masons, and admission was by tickets distributed by members. While virtually every seat was occupied in the auditorium, there was no crowding and every one had a good view of the interesting portion of the globe where so much blood has been shed almost since the dawn of history. While the doctor concentrated mostly on what is now going on in Turkey and in Europe and present conditions in Constantinople, he at at times carried his audience back to other days. The city of Smyrna, one of the seven churches to which a letter was dictated by the Son of Man on the "Isle which is called Patmos," was cast upon the screen, while the other portion of Asia Minor, seat of ancient Troy and Ephesus brought many reminiscenses of other days.

Street scenes in Constantinople, Smyrna and other contiguous places were vividly exhibited, the narrow streets, the cosmopolitan masses of humanity with which they are filled as well as the bridges connecting the great Moslem capital with other places were suggestive scenes in the Arabian Nights' Entertainment.

The Mosque of St. Sophia, with the people of other days supposed would be saved from destruction by angelic interposition when the Mahometan hordes invaded Europe was an interesting study, as well as the many other mosques which formed the pictures.

The doctor's audience greatly appreciated the pictures and lecture. They were the old-time stereopticon views which did not tire the eyes and the modern and ancient history afforded food for thought, as not being of the visionary and improbable nature which constitute so much of the panoramas of today.

The doctor received hearty applause at the close of the exhiibtion.

ROBERT PORTNER'S WILL.

A suit for the construction of the will of Robert Portner, who died May 28, 1906, leaving a valuable estate, was instituted in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia yesterday by his children—Edward G. Portner, Alvin O. Portner, Oscar C. Portner, Herman H. Portner, Hilda Portner, Etta P. Meredith and Elsa P. Graham, all of Washington, and Alma M. Koehler, of New York City and Anna V.P. Flood, of Virginia.

The petition in the case states that Anna Portner, the testator's widow, died July 12, 1912, Her husband's will dated July 29, 1906, provided that she should have the life use of the home property at 1104 Vermont avenue northwest, Washington, to go at her death to the children, the rest of the estate being in trust with the American Security and Trust Company as trustee.

The petitioners ask a construction of the will, "declaring such provisions thereof as are in violation of the rule of law against perpetuities to be void and decreeing that, as to the property and estate intended to be subject to such provision, the testator died intestate, and the such property and estate accordingly descended and became distributable to the plaintiffs as his sole heirs at law and next of kin."

FALSE ALARM OF FIRE.

Burning of Pile of Brush in Maryland Brings Out Alexandria Fire Department.

Between eight and nine o'clock last night an alarm of fire was started and within a few minutes the apparatus was hurrying toward the river front followed by hundreds of people, among whom it was reported that the acid plant of the Alexandria Fertilizer and Chemical Company was again burning. No fire, however, was found except that from a pile of brush which was illuminating the hills in Maryland on the opposite side of the river.

NECESSITY OF A FIRE ALARM SYSTEM.

While we recognize the fact that Alexandria, at present, is burdened with many pressing obligations which require money, and that it is impossible to secure everything the city may need at once, it is unfortunate that a fire alarm system is not in operation, as it would eliminate anoyances to which the community is being subjected at all times. Last night, while the Elks' Auditorium was densely packed with an appreciative audience of ladies and gentlemen whose attention was closely riveted to the pictures which were being exhibited, an alarm of fire was sounded. The sudden and furious ringing of bells, the rushing of crowds, and the clatter of fire apparatus was a rude interruption to the lecturer, Dr. C. B. Gibson, who was in an interesting manner conducting the audience through the Dardanelles to Constantinople. Many in the audience manifested apprehension, as no one could say in which neighborhood the fire department had hurried. It was later ascertained that all the excitement had been caused by a farmer in Maryland, on the opposite side of the river, who was burning brush.

During the past third of a century agents of fire alarm systems have from time to time visited Alexandria and demonstrated the same. One, we remember, about thirty years ago, according to the agent, could have been installed for about $3,000 and at an anual cost of $30 for operation. The city fathers on that occasion gravely decided that we did not need the device. A short time subsequent a minority in the City Council went on record as opposed to the introduction of electric lights in the city.

Paris, Belin, London and other cities can have municipal conveniences which cannot now be afforded in Alexandria; hence we expect to await our time with patience. But there would be no necessity of issuing bonds or negotiating a foreign loar in order to equip our efficient fire department with an alarm system which would save fuel and the wear and tear of apparatus which is often occasioned by mischievous boys who delight to see engines rush through the streets.

FAIL TO PAY POLL TAXES.

Of 32,335 Richmonders assessed for poll taxes in 1914 only 9,386 have paid them. Of the 9,000 who have paid their taxes about 500 are colored, although 10,382 negroes were assessed Nearly 22,000 whites were assessed

Not nearly as many voters have paid their poll tax in Richmond this year as last year, due, it is stated to the fact that last year many people were anxious to cast their ballot for or against Statewide prohibition.

Richmond is not the only city in Virginia where such apathy is apparent. Every voter should qualify even when no important issues are to be decided. The democratic party lost control of the state many years ago because many members of the organization neglected to pay their poll taxes. The leaders of the organization opposing those in control at that time too advantage of the lethargy existing in the democratic ranks, and the latter were subjected to a rude awakening.

Newspapers of the state have from time to time urged upon suffragans the importance of being qualified at all times to cast their ballots. Two thousand positions are to be filled in the state during the present year. There is always more or less criticism of the General Assembly and the laws which are augmenting the code from year to year. If we desire more satisfactory conditions, every man enjoying the rights of citiship should deposit his ballot. It not merely a privilege but a duty.

LEO M. FRANK'S ONLY HOPE.

The tribunal of last resort—the Supreme Court of the United States—has refused to release Leo M. Frank, who has been declared guilty of the murder of Mary Phagan, the factory girl, in Atlanta, Ga. Frank has now but one hope—executive clemency or mitigation of punishment by the pardoning board of Georgia.

This case has attracted attention for some time. The country seems to be divided on it, many believing the accused innocent, while others are equally as certain that the verdict against him was just. He has fought through the lower and appellate courts, until now his life is hanging upon a slender thread, merely a hope that the pardoning board will look favorably upon his plea.

The people of Atlanta generally decided that Frank was guilty of slaying the Phagan girl from the time he was first charged with the crime. While some facts were gleaned which tended to show that the young Israelite was the victim of race prejudice and that he was to suffer for a crime committed by another, many other things were brought out to the serious damage of the defendant's position. We will not reproduce the allegations of the prosecution or the defense.

Some people who have followed the case from the first have always believed Frank is innocent of the horrible crime imputed to him. They will use all influence they can wield to induce the Georgia authorities to spare the condemned man's life. If a terrible judicial blunder is about to be perpetrated, his friends allege, that it will be irreparable should his innocency be discovered in future years.

The star witness, Jim Conlin, a negro, who has a record, has not appealed to a large number of persons who have been interested in the case from the beginning. There are, however, many circumstances in connection with the murder which have cast shadows over Frank which neither he nor his lawyers have ben able to dispel.

CONFEDERATE SUBMARINE.

Device Sank a United States Frigate off Charleston Harbor.

Mobile, Ala., April 20.—While the whole of the United States is waiting for the Navy Department to raise the submerged submarine boat ~~Fal~~, sunk off Honolulu in 172 feet of water, Mobilians recall the loss of the first undersea craft that ever destroyed a warship. The Confederate torpedoboat Hunley, which was built in Mobile, sank the United States steam frigate Housatonic in Charleston harbor February 17, 1864. The Housatonic was one of the Federal fleet which established a blockade at the mouth of the Cooper river. With the Hunley went down nine men. The vessel was in command of Lieut. George E. Dixon.

The Hunley at different times carried more men to death by almost double than did the F-4. Soon after she was carried from Mobile by rail to Charleston, Lieut. Payne of the Confederate navy, with eight others volunteered to attack the Federal fleet with her.

While preparing for the expedition, the swell of a passing steamer caused the boat to sink suddenly and all hands on board except Lieut. Payne, who was at the moment standing in the open hatchway, perished.

The Hunley was soon raised and again made ready for service. Lieut. Payne again volunteered to command her. While lying near Fort Sumter she capsized and again sank in deep water, drowning all hands except her commander and two others.

Being again raised and prepared for action, Mr. Hunley, one of the constructors, made an experimental cruise in her Cooper river. While submerged at great length, from some unknown cause she became unmanageable and remained for many days on the bottom of the river with her crew of nine dead men.

A fourth time was the vessel raised and Lieut. Dixon, of Moible, of the twenty-first volunteers, with eight others, went out of Charleston harbor in her and attacked and sank the Federal steamer Housatonic.

Her mission at last accomplished, she disappeared forever with her crew. Nothing is known of her fate, said Gen. Maury, but it is believed that she perished with the enemy.

The Hunley carried to their death 32 men, including the man who is believed to have made her possible by financing the work in Mobile.

The submarine, at that time, contrary to belief, was not a new idea. A boat that could be rowed under water was built as early as the reign of James I. and a vessel of the submarine type was actually used by Americans against a British fleet in the revolutionary war. This vessel was the invention of a Yale student by the name of Bushnell.

Injunction to prevent the boycotting of their places were applied for in the Circuit Court of Baltimore yesterday by three Polish bakers of East Baltimore against the local Polish branch of the Bakery and Confectionery Workers' International Union of America and its officers. It is alleged by all the complainants that because they would not employ members of the union they have been threatened with the breaking up of their business. They also allege that pickets have been placed outside their places, their employes have been assaulted and their wagons stopped on teh street, the drivers being urged to make deliveries to customers of the complainants. Kosakowski also alleges that one of his wagons was slashed and damaged while the driver was away. In each case it was ordered that the injunction issue.

FISHING OUTLOOK GOOD.

Potomac And Bay Trap Fishermen Report Big Catches.

Heathsville Va., April 20.—Reports from the trap fishermen on the Potomac River and Chesapeake Bay are to the effect that they are having a successful season. The run of herring and shad is large, and many of the fishermen have had the best season in many years. The local packing houses are kept busy and are paying a good price for the fish.

The fishermen predict a good season among the menhaden fisheries. The season for catching these fish opens the last Monday in May and lasts for about six months. This industry has grown to such an extent that there is now invested in the business in Northumberland county alone hundreds of thousands of dollars. The menhaden fishing fleet consists of more than 50 steamers.

TRIANGULAR LOVE TRAGEDY.

Husband Shoots Man he Blames for Spiriting Wife Away.

Monessen, Pa., April 20.—His alleged infatuation for pretty Mrs. Frank Martin resulted in the slaying of Joseph Daniels, who was shot dead in Donner avenue at 8 o'clock Sunday morning.

Daniels, it is said, had spent last night in a gambling resort and was returning home when he was killed. Martin, according to the police, waited in the hallway of his own home, and when Daniels passed shot him in the face with a single-bareled shotgun. Spectators say Martin sent two more charges of shot into the body as it lay on the sidewalks.

When bystanders started toward thep rostrate form, Martin leveled the gun at them and, although it evidently was not loaded, he succeeded in preventing interference. After getting some money from a room in his home Martin fled to the woods.

Posses have failed to find him. Mrs. Martin disappeared a week ago. The husband accused Daniels of having kept her hidden.

NEGRO PALLBEARERS

Old Family Servants Bear Remains of Colonel Andrews to Grave

Raleigh, N. C. April 20—The funeral of Colonel A. B. Andrews first vice president of the Southern Railway, who died suddenly on Saturday night took place yesterday from the Church of the Good Shepherd, and the services were conducted by Bishop Joseph B. Cheshire, of the Diocese of North Carolina, and Rev. I. M. Pittinger, D.D., rector of the church. A large number of prominent railroad officials and bankers from throughout the State attended the funeral as Colonel Andrews was a conspicuous figure in the North Carolina financial world.

There were only four honorary pallbearers—President Fairfax Harrison, of the Southern Railway; Vice President J. M. Culp, General Counsel Alfred P. Thom, and Assistant General Counsel Hamilton McWhorter, of Athens, Ga. Active pallbearers were colored servants who served Colonel Andrews for many years. All trains on the Southern system stopped for 5 minutes beginning at the hour of the funeral, according to orders which had been issued.

CRUELTY OF MODERN WAR.

German And Belgian Soldiers Slaughtered in Retaliation.

London, April 20.—The Daily Chronicle says in a dispatch from North France:

The fierce fighting of a week or so ago at Drie Grachten has inflamed Belgian-German hatred to the highest degree. A frightful example of German vengefulness has just been reported. Belgians who crossed to the right bank of the Yser were surprised at night, and the members of one regiment were all either killed, wounded or taken prisoners.

A tremendous effort was then made by King Albert's army, and finally the Germans were driven back to their old lines, leaving 600 dead on the field of battle. Taught by experience the Belgians are organizing a system of night patrols to guard against surprises.

Four days ago one of these patrols fell upon some German sentries and killed them all, as indeed it was their duty to do or otherwise the alarm would have been given to the enemy. The whole affair was regular and a characteristic episode of the nocturnal warfare that goes on every night along the wohle line of trenches from Switzerland to the sea. Such incidents of course offer no shadow of excuse for reprisals.

Yet the German commanders determined to make an example that might prevent sentries from being dealt with in this fashion again. Using some incident or other as a pretext they had a number of Belgian prisoners put to death who had been captured in the fighting at Drie Grachten.

The number of those "executed" was far greater than that of sentries who had been surprised by the Belgians. The exact number is not known.

KILLED BY BOMBS.

Germans Using More Deadly Explosions—Woman Dceapitateed.

London, April 20.—A Daily Express correspondent cabling from northern France, says:

At Amiens Friday 30 persons, mostly civilians, were either killed or wounded by a single bomb dropped from a Taube, which proves that the Germans are using more deadly explosives than ever before.

Twenty-two houses were destroyed outright and many others were seriously damaged. Several incidents show the effects of Germany's newest explosive.

Mme. Bellident, 63 years of age, who lived in Rue de Gautier, was decapitated at a distance of 200 feet. Mme. Helene Du Pontruen, while at work 100 feet from the explosion, was struck by a piece of ragged steel and also decapitated.

Fatal Bay Rum Spree.

Roanoke, Va., April 20.—Two young men, employes of Southern Gypsum Company, are dead at Saltville as a result of drinking bay rum. The men, Samuel Hall and Jacob Roberts, purchased eight or ten small bottles of the fluid Saturday, at a store at McCrady's Gap, and went off that night and drank most of the contents, with the result that they both died.

WOMAN SHOOTS SELF DEAD.

Miss Anderson Found in her Home by Her Mother.

Waynesboro, Pa., April 20.—Miss Minnie M. Anderson, 40 years old, committed suicide yesterday in her room at the home of John L. Hockersmith by firing a bulet through her heart from an old army revolver.

Her mother, Mrs. Hockersmith, left home about 9 o'clock. When she returned home she found her daughter lying on the floor in a pool of blood. Her body was in front of the dresser, and it is supposed she was looking in the mirror when she shot herself. She is said to have ben suffering from melancholy following a recent illness.

JUMPED TO INSTANT DEATH.

Negro Landed on Head When he Leaped From Train.

Elizabeth City N. C., April 20.—A negro named Richardson, traveling from Norfolk to New Bern on the night pasenger train, jumped off a night or two ago opposite the Elizabeth cotton mills about a half mile from the depot, while the train was running at a rapid rate and was killed. The top of his head was broken in.

Special officer Zenas Jennings ran across the negro while on the train. He had in his possession a quantity of whisky, which he admitted belonged to him. The officer informed him that he would take him under arrest when he got to Elizabeth City. It is supposed the negro jumped to escape arrest.
